WOMAN IN SWOON IN COURT

Miss Bendegard Collapses When Told Her Son Is Absent

Broker Wheeled Before Judge; Strange Case Puzzles Police

Miss Agnes Bendegard, whose accusation against Joseph S. Myers that he had stolen her child away from her led to his arrest yesterday, suffered a nervous collapse today when she was told that her little boy was not brought into court, and that there was no indication that she would get him back immediately.

"I thought they would have to bring him into court when I had Mr. Myers arrested," she sobbed. "I thought as soon as the trial was started they would have to let me see my boy, at least. I had Mr. Myers arrested just to get my boy again. I don't know why he stole our son from me. But he must bring him back."

Myers was arraigned on the charge of child-stealing before Judge Mortimer Smith today, and the case was set for preliminary hearing May 4. Myers is a wealthy realty dealer, a partner in the firm of Myers & White.

Myers was brought into court in his wheeled chair, which had been taken to the second floor of the city hall in the prison elevator. He is out on $2000 bonds. He is represented by Attorney A. L. Frick.

Miss Bendegard, who is an artist, a graduate of the Hopkins art school, and who has a studio at 902 Filbert street, charges Myers with being the father of her five-year-old son, Jerome. She accuses Myers of having gained possession of the boy by promising to marry her, and proposing that the boy should be taken care of for a month by his sister, a Mrs. Williams, and that he should then be adopted to avoid scandal. She consented to this, she says, and delivered the boy to a woman to whom she was introduced by Myers, who said she was his sister. The woman was called Mary Williams by Myers, Miss Bendegard declares.

WOMAN STILL MISSING.
When the joint warrant, charging Myers and Mrs. Williams with felony was issued, the police were advised by Attorney Frick that he would surrender his client. They then made no effort to arrest Mrs. Williams, believing that she would be surrendered with Myers. They were surprised when Myers alone came to the city hall.

"How about Mrs. Williams?" Attorney Frick was asked.
"I shall ask my client," he explained. Later Frick stated that he had no authority to make any arrangements excepting for Myers. Myers has denied that he knew the woman.

The police today made their first effort to find where Mrs. Williams is, whether or if she really exists. Inspectors McSorley and Wood have been detailed to make the investigation.

UTILITY BILL IS WON FOR OAKLAND

SACRAMENTO, April 14.—Incorporation of public utility districts by cities and outside territory is permitted in a bill by Senator Breed, which passed the senate without opposition today. Its main purpose is to permit Oakland and adjacent territory to combine for purchase of the Peoples Water Company as a public utility.

"This measure has been widely discussed at public meetings and in the newspapers of Alameda county. It is of very great importance to us," said Breed. There was no other discussion.

Under the bill, other utilities than water may be purchased. It does not repeal the public utility bill of similar import passed a few years ago for the benefit of Los Angeles.

Launch Husky and Crew Reach Haven
LOS ANGELES, April 14.—Last night's heavy gale blew the launch Husky and its load of eleven men more than thirty miles away from San Pedro for which point the boat was heading from El Segundo. After being out nearly twenty-four hours the Husky reached port Los Angeles pier today.

The crew of bridge builders aboard had been without food and suffered from cold. Captain Rogers kept the launch in the shelter of Point Dume, north of Santa Monica, until the wind died down.

BELL WILL COME WEST

Philadelphia to Grant Exposition Request

PHILADELPHIA, April 14.—A determined effort will be made at tomorrow's meeting of the city council to bring about the passage of an ordinance permitting the removal of the historic Liberty Bell from its shrine in Independence Hall to the Pennsylvania building at the San Francisco International Exposition, where it will be exhibited until the close of the fair. Mayor Blankenberg and leaders in council favor the movement and are willing to see the necessary money appropriated for the expenses of the trip. Heretofore, the proposition has been opposed mainly by patriotic orders and by bodies of women who fear the precious relic might be destroyed in a railroad wreck or some other accident.

Now those favoring the exhibition of the bell in the far Western city have obtained the support of Admiral George Dewey and Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles, and the influence of the distinguished officers is being felt so strongly that there is little doubt the bell will be permitted to go away, properly guarded by Philadelphia policemen. Admiral Dewey and General Miles argue that by reason of conditions in Europe this is a good time to stir up patriotic sentiment among the people of this country, and that nothing would have a greater influence than a trip across the continent of the bell which "proclaimed liberty throughout the land."

The details of the amount of money needed for the date on which the revered piece of bronze is to be started on its journey remain to be settled.

RUSSIANS WIN BATTLE IN BESKIDS

By Associated Press.
LEMBURG, April 13, via Petrograd and London, April 14, 3:45 p. m.—In a desperate attack by the Russians on the right flank of the Austrian position at Mezolade on the Hungarian side of the East Beskid mountains, and about 50 miles south of Przemyel, the Austrians were forced, after a twelve-hour battle, to make a precipitate retreat. The whole main crest in this district, which the Austrians considered to be impregnable, is now in Russian hands.

GREATEST BATTLES WAGING

By Associated Press.
LONDON, April 14, 12:45 p. m.—The struggle for the last of the Carpathian passes remaining in the hands of the German allies still holds the center of the war stage. In London the critical importance of the series of fierce battles being waged along the eastern front from Badenfeld to Bukovina is so fully recognized that the activities in other fields appear relatively of minor importance.

Each side is making claims of success. The Austrians assert that the Muscovite invaders have been held in check since March 20, but an official statement from Petrograd declares that fighting is in progress more than fourteen miles to the south of Dukla pass, which would indicate a considerable Russian advance in the direction of the Hungarian plains.

The Teutonic forces still hold Uzsok pass and continue their counter attacks, but last night the Russians advanced the capture of three more heights within four or five miles of that vital gateway.

In the western arena the allies have done little in the last two or three days beyond the consolidation of positions preparatory to another effort to oust the Germans from St. Mihiel.

Increased activity has been noted at the Dardanelles and rumors persist of German warships cruising in the northern waters of the North Sea.

AUSTRIA READY TO PROCLAIM SIEGE

By Associated Press.
ROME, April 15, 7:50 p. m., via Paris, April 14, 4:45 a. m.—A dispatch from Trent telegraphed from the frontier to the Idea Nazionale quotes an official who has just returned from Vienna as authority for the statement that a state of siege probably will be proclaimed soon in Austria, because of the unrest resulting from the Russian advance across the Carpathians. Wealthy Hungarians are said to be making hasty preparations for flight.

The Idea Nazionale's correspondent says he has learned from the same source that Emperor Francis Joseph has decided to cede to Italy the so-called "Italian provinces" including Friuli, but only on condition that Italy join with Austria and Germany in prosecuting the war. This report is considered in Rome to be entirely without foundation.

BOMB WRECKS HOME

FAMILY IN PERIL OF DEATH

Five Persons Barely Escape Death in Mafia Attempt

Home of Wealthy Farmer Is Ruined to Extort Money

PITTSBURG, April 14.—Following repeated demands for money, in mysterious "Black Hand" letters, and a former attempt to wreck a Pittsburgh home by dynamite, the home of A. Cardinelli, wealthy Italian merchant of this city, was wrecked by an explosion this morning, when a charge of dynamite blew the entire front of the home out, and buried Cardinelli, his wife and their three children from their beds. The family escaped with but a few scratches and a scare. The home is ruined.

The explosion occurred at about 4 o'clock this morning. The dynamite had been placed directly under the bedroom occupied by Cardinelli and his wife. In adjoining rooms slept their children, Joseph, age 18, Albert, age 17, and Mary, age 12.

The explosion tore away the front of the house and crumbled the bedroom walls, and only through some queer freak, missed hurling the sleeping couple into eternity, they had remained on the only undamaged spot in the room. The couple were thrown from the bed to the floor and falling plaster covered them.

MANY LETTERS SENT.
The explosion follows the receipt of a long series of black hand letters which have been turned over to the sheriff's office from time to time. About a year ago a small charge of dynamite was placed under the home of Cardinelli's neighbors. The damage this time being of a minor nature, and letters, following the explosion, warned the man that the attempt was but a warning and that a more dangerous explosion would follow unless money were paid to the Black Handers at once.

Instructions were given him to leave the money at a certain spot, and this letter, with the others is now in the hands of Sheriff R. R. Veale. The sheriff today declared that he has several clues to the identity of the attempted murderers. The men evidently fled from the vicinity some time before the explosion took place, as there were remains of a long fuse in the wreckage. The force of the explosion extended along the line of the front foundations of the house, digging a deep hole in the ground, and hurving portions of the home as far as 100 yards away. According to the sheriff an exceptionally heavy blasting charge was used. That Cardinelli and his wife are alive, he says, is almost a miracle. The children, being further from the explosion, were not in such grave danger as their parents.

Chief Veale declares that he and the United States postoffice authorities had

Mayor Rolph Holds Pow-wow With Chiefs

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—Chief Black Fox and Chief Sitting Holy of the South Dakota Sioux Indians visited Mayor Rolph this morning bearing a message of peace from their tribesmen and caused the city's chief executive to "admit" that he is a descendant of the Indians himself.

With a smile the mayor declared that he was a descendant of John Rolph, who married Pocahontas and moved to England in the Colonial days.

Thus a bond of sympathy was created with the red men who saluted him as Chief Rolph and smoked with him the pipe of peace.

Saves Girl Within Few Inches of Train
By Associated Press.
EUGENE, Ore., April 14.—H. E. Joyce, Portland messenger boy on an Oregon electric train, saved a girl yesterday when he jerked her from the track within a few inches of the train.

Joyce's custom is to hang to the door, directly behind the engineer, drop to the ground and snooz off to sleep. The train was not yet started when he saw a girl on the tracks. The car was less than its length from her when Joyce dropped off and ran in front of the train forty miles an hour and jerked the girl to safety.

GIRL WRITES "SUICIDE" NOTE; GUARD IS PLACED AROUND LAKE

Search is being made by the police and by attaches of the boathouse at Lake Merritt for Virginia Amarantas, a 17-year-old girl, who left her home, 582 Montclair avenue, last night leaving a note that she was tired of life and was going to jump into the lake.

The launch at Lake Merritt has been circling the shores and all the policemen in the lake district have been given descriptions of the girl. Every effort is being made to find her and the men on the waterfront along the estuary have also been instructed to keep a sharp lookout for her.

The report was made to the police by Fred Hooper at whose home she was employed. Miss G. E. McCarthy of the probation office has also been notified, as the girl was formerly under her care. The girl has been brooding of late over imaginary grievances, according to Hooper, and may have started out with the intention of taking her own life. She is described as a brunette, 5 feet, 4 inches in height, weighing about 140 pounds. When last seen she wore a long gray coat and white hat.

Court Martial to Fix Blame for Explosion
MARE ISLAND, April 14.—Papers arrived at the yard today for the court martial of Lieutenant K. L. Hill, Chief Machinist Emmett O'Donnell and Water Tender W. Appleby, who will face trial to fix responsibility for the recent boiler explosion on the cruiser San Diego while in Mexican waters. The court martial will be held toward the end of the month. Telegrams were sent to Washington today requesting postponement of the tender Maumee. The janitor will be closed tomorrow, a legal holiday having been declared, and this will delay the work.

MINES ARE LAID IN HARBOR

Visitors May Not Approach Stranded Asama, Report

Three Warships Stand Guard Over Mikado's New Base

By Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, April 14.—Three Japanese warships under Admiral Nakayama, with six colliers and supply ships, manned altogether by about 4000 men, are in Turtle Bay, Lower California, standing by the stranded Japanese cruiser Asama, according to a staff correspondent of the Los Angeles Times, who has just returned from a trip of investigation. Turtle bay is 409 miles south of San Diego, and is said to be the best harbor north of Magdalena Bay, the west coast rendezvous of the United States navy.

No effort is being made to float the Asama, which the correspondent avers is lying in soft mud at the entrance to the harbor. This was expected by the Japanese officers, who declared they were awaiting the arrival of a great crane ship. Meantime, however, the correspondent asserted, Turtle bay has been mined by the Japanese, ammunition has been landed and a large camp established ashore. Preparations also were made, he added, to land guns from the Asama. The mines were laid in the harbor, the correspondent said he was told, as an additional precaution against attack by German naval vessels.

The warships guarding the Asama were the Chitose, Idzumo and Tokioka. When the correspondent sought to get close to these vessels and to visit the Asama, he said he was arrested, and told by Lieutenant Tomasada of the Idzumo that it was dangerous to cruise about the bay and also that visiting was to be discouraged.

ADMIRAL IS CREDULOUS.
By Associated Press.
SAN DIEGO, April 14.—Rear Admiral Charles E. Pond, commanding the Pacific reserve fleet, here today reacted the reported occupation and seizure of Turtle bay, Lower California, by a Japanese fleet as a joke.

"With the Mexican government in its present condition," he said, "there is not much of a neutrality basis for Japan to violate."
He declined to consider or discuss the possibility of permanent occupation of Turtle bay by the Japanese. Neither would he discuss reports that the Japanese had fortified the harbor.

SALVAGE ONCE FAILED.
By Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—The tug Sea Rover and two barges which left on a salvage expedition for the coast of Lower California, where the Japanese cruiser Asama lay, according to an announcement several weeks ago, never reached the disabled cruiser.

Owners of the tug said today that the tug and barges were chartered for such an expedition but after being held at Monterey bay several days because of the alleged breach of neutrality in their mission, they returned to San Francisco under orders of their charterers.

It is understood in shipping circles that the Japanese government instituted the voyage of the Sea Rover and the barges. Upon their return it was announced that the Asama had been dismantled previously and the hull had been so badly wrecked that salvage was useless.

Pope Gives Money to Succor War Victims

By Associated Press.
ROME, April 14.—Pope Benedict XV has sent 500,000 lire to the Red Cross for the war. About half the donation was a letter expressing the pleasure of the Pope that true committees for the Red Cross had been formed in various countries. The Pope also sent 5000 to the Bishop of Cracow for the Polish war sufferers.

Dardanelles Forts Again Bombarded

By Associated Press.
CONSTANTINOPLE, April 13, via wireless to Berlin and London, April 14.—An official statement issued by the Turkish war office tonight says: "Some enemy patrol ships today, Tuesday, bombarded unsuccessfully the batteries at the exit of the Dardanelles. A cruiser and a destroyer both were struck by shells."

Standard Remedy for Many Homes

Indigestion and constipation are two conditions closely related and the cause of much physical suffering. The tendency to indulge one's appetite is general, so that most people suffer at some time or another from rebellion of the overtaxed organs of digestion and elimination. A simple, pleasantly effective remedy that will quickly relieve the congestion of poisonous waste and restore regularity is the combination of simple laxative herbs with a resin, sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a mild, pleasant laxative and digestive, absolutely free from opiates or narcotic drugs, and has been the standard household remedy in countless homes for many years. A free trial bottle can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 152 Washington St., Monticello, N. Y.

TREASURY BILL ISSUE WILL BE UNLIMITED

LONDON, April 14.—The first of the new treasury bills for the war, announced a departure on the part of the treasury for financing the war, instead of the usual issue of bills from time to time by tender, as previously was the case, there will be an unlimited issue of such bills. The bank of England, acting on behalf of the treasury, is now empowered to offer treasury bills daily, for either three, six or nine months, according to the fancy of the purchaser. The bills to bear a fixed rate of interest, to be determined by the treasury. In the opinion of bankers, the new operation, if skillfully handled, will, in addition to steadying the market, provide the government with all necessary resources for considerable period and obviate the necessity for another war loan for some time.

LOSS OF APPETITE

Most Successfully Treated by Taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Loss of appetite is accompanied by loss of vitality, which is serious. It is common in the spring because at this time the blood is impure and impoverished and fails to give the digestive organs what is absolutely necessary for the proper performance of their functions. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the old reliable all-the-year-round medicine, is especially useful in the spring. Get it from your druggist today. By purifying and enriching the blood and giving vitality, vigor and tone, it is wonderfully successful in the treatment of loss of appetite and the other ailments prevalent at this time. It is not simply a spring medicine; it is much more than that—but it is the best spring medicine. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the rich red blood the digestive organs need.—Advertisement.

REFUTE STORY OF FALABA SINKING

Given 23 Minutes to Leave Ship After Chase and Signals to Summon Help.

By Associated Press. BERLIN, April 13. —A semi-official account of the sinking of the British steamer Falaba by a German submarine, March 27, was made public here today. It follows: "On receiving the signal 'stop or fire,' the Falaba steamed on and went up rocket signals to summon help and was only brought to a standstill after a chase of a quarter of an hour. "Despite the danger of an attack from the steamer or from other vessels, the Falaba was not immediately abandoned, but signaled that the steamer must be abandoned within ten minutes. The men of the Falaba quickly left the ship, although the launching took place in an unseamable manner. They failed to give assistance, which was needed by the passengers struggling in the water. "From the time of the order to leave the ship until the torpedo was discharged, not ten, but twenty-three minutes elapsed, prior to which occurred the chase of the submarine, which, during the time might have been used to get the boats ready. "The torpedo was fired only when the approach of suspicious looking vessels, which the boat was to be expected, compelled the commander of the submarine to take quick action. When the torpedo was discharged nobody was seen on board the ship except the captain, who bravely stuck to his post. Afterward some persons became visible who were busy about a boat. "Of the crew of the submarine the only ones on deck were those serving the cannon or those necessary for signaling. It was impossible for them to engage in rescue work, because the submarine could not take on passengers. "Every word superfluous in defending our men against malicious accusations. At the judicial proceedings in England no witness dared raise accusations. It is untrue that at the time the submarine displayed the English flag. The submarine throughout the affair showed as much consideration for the Falaba as was compatible with safety."

Combining Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger-tips. Do this tonight and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. You will find too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silk and soft, and look as good a hundred times better. You can't liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Advertisement.

GIRLS SEND UP FLYING TICKETS

Each Missive Picked Up Will Admit Finder to Great Concert

Oakland's two greatest show girls have come aviation experts. Today at noon, from the City Hall steps, they sent into the air a dozen balloons, each bearing a ticket which, no matter where the finder picks it up, will carry the holder to the first musical event of Oakland's municipal auditorium. The two girls, chosen by a jury of the Oakland Rotary Club, are Miss Esther Hesse and Miss Helen Hesse. The balloons carried flyers to the "Old Home Songs" concert to be given in the Auditorium Tuesday evening, May 4, under the auspices of the Rotary Club and Alameda County Teachers' Association. A great chorus, under the direction of Alexander Stewart, and a general noted soloist will appear at the concert. The two girls appointed by the club to send the message of the concert abroad to the world are both employed in Oakland stores, and both are enthusiastic workers for the success of the concert, which has attracted wide attention among music lovers. The program will include not only the old songs of long ago, but several special features of interest also. Among the soloists will be: Soprano, Mrs. Alma Berglund Winchester, contralto, Mrs. J. Collins, alto, Mrs. Robert H. Hastings, baritone, Lowell M. Redford, bass, Henry L. Ferris, accompanist, Mrs. Mabel Hill Redford. Home Sweet Home, Love's Old Sweet Song, Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes, I would That My Love, Silver Threads Among the Gold, The Last Rose of Summer, Annie Laurie, Then You'll Remember Me, Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep, Killarney, Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms, Kathleen Mavourneen, Robin Adair, Coming Thro' the Rye, The Old Folks at Home and many others of the old favorites will be sung.

PEACE WITH VICTORY IS CANADIAN MESSAGE

NEW YORK, April 14.—The allies do not want peace now and will not wait until the "oppression of Germany in Europe" has been ended, Newton Wesley Rowell, leader of the Opposition in Parliament, declared at a dinner of the Canadian Club in New York last night. "There is talk of peace now and I do not wonder that the people of the world are sick of the horror of war," said Mr. Rowell. "But wait before you ask for peace. Tell us to take up our arms and finish the work we have undertaken. I bring you this message from Canada, and I know I speak for all of the dominions of the British Empire, that to the last man and to the last dollar, we will stand by the allies and we will give them all the strength and courage God has given us, we are in this fight to see it through, to fight until liberty has been earned, not only for England but for all of Europe."

Compares Accomplishments With Those of Thomas Jefferson at Dinner.

PHILADELPHIA, April 14.—Secretary of State W. H. Jennings Bryan, Dudley Field Malone, collector of the Port of New York and former Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer were the speakers here last night at a Jefferson Day dinner attended by prominent democrats from all sections of the state. Every official act of President Wilson was highly praised by Secretary Bryan, who took each accomplishment of the President and compared it with the precedents of Thomas Jefferson, drawing the conclusion that President Wilson is a true Jeffersonian Democrat. He said the tariff, the currency bill, the trust legislation and all other notable things done in the last two years were accomplished by the President himself. Every pledge and promise of the party, he added, had been kept and the President had been conspicuous in every way with all his duties. After summing up the President's accomplishments, Mr. Bryan said: "Is it possible that a President who has stood on the people's side in every issue cannot be appreciated? I cannot doubt that the American people will substantially inform him what he had done and the ideals for which he has stood."

IS STAR SWIMMER WILL APPEAR HERE

DOROTHY BECKER.

Dorothy Becker, the premier mermaid of California, will be the star feature of the program that will open Oakland's modern bathing palace, the New Piedmont baths, on next Friday night.

Dorothy, who is but 15 years of age, was a victim of scarlet fever when 10 years ago, the ravages of which left her an invalid, but her parents, recognizing the advantages of the art of swimming and physical culture, have developed Miss Dorothy, until now she bears the distinction of being the champion 50-yard girl swimmer of the Pacific coast and the most perfect formed girl in California. She recently returned from the Hawaiian Islands, where she defeated the best women swimmers in the islands, conquering the famous Ruth Stacker.

Last Fourth of July Dorothy won her title of Pacific coast champion at Sutter baths.

"The story of Dorothy's achievements is one in which many American parents should find a vital interest. It may serve to save some girls from sacrifice to the stupidity of those fathers and mothers who from down their daughters' hunger for wholesome outdoor exercises and frolic with the 'tomboy' rebuke, says her mother. 'Mothers who prohibit the active play of their girls on the foolish plea that it is 'unladylike' and undignified are shining deeply against their children. They are stunting and may be actually helping slowly to kill those dearest to them.'

"Grit and persistent exercise of lungs and muscles are the big assets in building sound and beautiful bodies. Any girl who has had a fighting chance can do what Dorothy did, I am sure."

Dorothy is California's Annette Kellerman. There is not a stunt that an Australian girl can do that our local mermaid cannot duplicate. In addition to being an adept at swimming, she can box, swing clubs, perform on the horizontal bars, and a hundred and one other stunts as well. She also attend the opening of the baths on Friday will be treated to the greatest aquatic program ever presented to the Oakland public.

Announcement in the House of Commons that the British foreign office had requested the American Ambassador in London to telegraph to the American Ambassador in Berlin to find out what truth there was in the reported German proposals. Premier Asquith announced that the house would sit for only three days' work.

The city council recently changed the name of Allendale avenue to Fairweather street. Today a petition was filed asking that the name be changed back again to Allendale avenue. The council setting Monday for a hearing of the proposition of the two names to arise out of the appropriateness of the desired designation.

Bitterness was expressed by those who appeared before the council today that the name of the avenue, or street, should have been changed at the request of a number of people not residents of the street, or avenue. Francis St. J. Fox, an attorney, declared that not one of the petitioners who had asked that the Fairweather terminology be applied was a property owner or resident of the district. This was reiterated by K. Berken-dahl, another petitioner, claiming being forced to live on Fairweather street when he wanted to continue living on Allendale avenue.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—With loud war whoops and outlandish shouts, a band of cowboys, Indians and soldiers swooped down on a revel at 617 Jackson street this morning, and made things lively for the occupants. ## "SHOULD THE CARNEGIE FOUNDATION BE SUPPRESSED?"

In the current number of the North American Review, Mr. Henry S. Pritchett, president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, asks and answers the question, "Should the Carnegie Foundation Be Suppressed?" The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching is chartered by Congress and administers the income of two endowments. One, of thirteen million dollars, is devoted to the payment of pensions to college professors and their widows, in the United States, Canada and Newfoundland. The income from the other endowment, of a million and a quarter dollars, is applied to the study of educational problems throughout the United States and Canada, and the editing and printing of the results of such studies. Some reports, exhaustive, searching and keenly critical in nature, have been made respecting the educational systems in various states and the publication of these findings has in many instances created a great deal of opposition to the Carnegie Foundation. The directors of the Foundation have deemed it advisable to tell the truth and to flood with light a lot of educational shams, hypocrites, and make-believes in various parts of the country. They think that people are entitled to know the truth about their own institutions and the institution which touches them most nearly is that of their public schools, and the state supported colleges and universities. The whole effort of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching in this respect has been to help, to uplift, to improve educational work in the several states. Incompetent teachers and educational officials have winced and writhed under the scathing criticism which has been directed against them, but the public, in every instance, has profited by it and will continue so to do. The Carnegie Foundation under Dr. Pritchett's able direction, is performing a service for the public that no elected or appointed official, paid from the public treasury could possibly do, for the very evident reason that his labors would be hampered by political and personal considerations.

The chief criticism leveled at the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching is the suggestion that through the distribution of pensions it might tend to exert an improper and compelling influence over those educational institutions, the teachers of which are among its beneficiaries. This is a serious criticism and deserves serious consideration. In the first place, only about one-fourth the colleges in the country can share in the pensions provided by the Foundation, for the reason that the pension fund is not available for teachers in colleges which are related in any way to religious bodies. There are only seventy-three institutions which share in the pension fund. Twenty of these institutions are small colleges and in none of them do the professors deal with the Foundation at all. They deal entirely with the colleges and receive their pension from the colleges, exactly as they receive their salaries. No attempt in any way, directly or indirectly, is made to influence the teachers, the matter taught or the method of teaching. The only opportunity the Foundation has to influence the educational judgment of professors is through its publications, and these can have influence only in so far as they are sound and honest. The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching is doing a very much needed and admirable work. It is entirely plain to anyone who examines the subject thoroughly and impartially that the criticisms which have been made respecting it are unsound and in large part unworthy of anything more than the most casual consideration.

THE REDLIGHT LAW.

The Sacramento papers are engaged in a highly interesting dispute respecting the comparative state of public morals in the capital city before and after the enforcement of the redlight law. The Union contends that things are better than before. The Bee takes the contrary view, and from this distance it appears to have the better of the argument. It quotes Police Magistrate Henderson as saying:

Since the abolishment of the segregated district and the scattering of the inmates of that section into all parts of the city, the vice conditions in Sacramento have become decidedly worse. The present condition is deplorable, to say the least.

The Bee further quotes Commissioner Coulter, whose "long experience in the real estate business," is cited as especially qualifying him for judgment, as saying:

I think vice is as widespread in Sacramento today as it was in the days before the passage of the abatement act. The law has not helped one bit.

In a bold attempt to clinch the charge by the testimony of Senator Henry H. Lyons of Los Angeles as follows:

Two-thirds of the apartment houses and hotels of Los Angeles are houses of prostitution since the Redlight Abatement Act was passed. The women have just moved from their old places.

If this be the condition in the chosen home of all the virtues, then what must it be elsewhere?

Press dispatches from Ottawa report impressively the scene in the Canadian parliament when the speaker announced General Kitchener's call for more troops. The announcement, says a dispatch, was "greeted with cheers." Here we have the spirit of a new and vital country stirred to its depths and animated to exaltation by a great patriotic necessity. In painful contrast come reports from England describing difficulties encountered in keeping the production of war supplies in British factories up to maximum. Various inducements, including a ten per cent bonus in wages have not had the effect of commanding continuous and normal labors on the part of operatives, who insist upon their right to anywhere from one to three days of license and idleness out of each week. These statements react painfully in support of charges currently made that the fiber of certain classes of the English people is a deteriorating quantity.

Verily a people incapable of being moved by demands like those now urged in the effort to keep the factories in operation, is suffering from something in its moral nature akin to that deplorable mental distemper we style paresis. And verily it is not surprising that those upon whom the responsibilities of government more immediately fall should be eager to resort to extreme measures to bring about that moral stimulus which is the one hope of uniting the British empire.

MAYOR MOTT AND HIS WORK.

Hon. Frank K. Mott, mayor of Oakland, has printed in convenient and readable form, a very concise and interesting "Review of Municipal Activities in the City of Oakland, During the Years 1905-1915." Mayor Mott's modest book is in reality a history of Oakland during one of its most significant and important decades. During the ten years of his administration of the affairs of Oakland, this community has grown from a large town into a large, well-knit, purposeful, progressive and aggressive city. It has been the period of its greatest growth, of its most marked and brilliant material progress and advancement. It is easy and perhaps natural for those not directly connected with the task of municipal government and the administration of public funds to criticize more or less frequently and severely what is done and what is left undone by the servants of the public, but we feel sure that after carefully counting the cost and appraising the value to the city of the varied necessary and splendid improvements which have added so much to the comfort, to the convenience, to the civic pride of its people, that no one will be willing to go back to the Oakland of ten years ago. We are a forward looking people, and though municipal growth like physical growth is sometimes both painful and costly, we have the strength of mind and heart and will to push further forward and to keep building and improving and enlarging the city in the endeavor to meet the demands of a growing population which is heartily endowed with a sense of modern municipal necessities and animated with a very fine spirit of civic consciousness. Mayor Mott has labored assiduously for what he believed to be the welfare of the city. He has doubtless made mistakes, as all active, aggressive and useful public officials do, but the good that he has accomplished outweighs any inadvertent errors into which he may have fallen. He is laying down the cares of office at an interesting and fateful period in the history of Oakland. The next decade promises to be rich with events of great importance to this community. Those who live during another ten years will doubtless see built upon the foundations which Mayor Mott has assisted in laying a very great and prosperous city, the chief industrial center of the Pacific slope.

THE GOVERNMENT AND THE BANK.

A formal charge made by the authorities of the Riggs Bank, Washington City, to the effect that Secretary McAdoo has maliciously sought to embarrass and destroy it, is a formal development in line with gossip which has been going the rounds now for several months. The government gives to the Treasury Department a certain authority with respect to the examination of banks, the placing of government funds, etc., etc. It is possible for the Secretary of the Treasury, in the exercise of this authority, to make conditions intolerable for any particular bank. Familiar gossip is to the effect that Mr. McAdoo has literally pestered the Riggs Bank to its destruction. Its customary government patronage was withdrawn. Reports upon every conceivable subject were demanded. Wherever activity on the part of the Treasury Department could be an embarrassment, at that point it has been applied. This gossip is believed in banking circles and it appears to have an unquestioned basis. All this of course is small business, extremely small business for a man in Mr. McAdoo's position—or for a man in any position. But Mr. McAdoo is not means a large man. If, regarded on the score of whimsical althority, he is less conspicuous than his fellow cabinet officer, Secretary Josephus Daniels, he is none the less an obvious chump. This has been made evident in many ways. Among them, as indicative of character, may be cited his constant violations of common propriety upon the basis of his privileges as a member of the Cabinet.

A small incident will illustrate Mr. McAdoo's habit in the matter of abuse of the special privileges accorded members of the administration at Washington. It is Mr. McAdoo's custom—usual we believe during the first year of second marriage—to go to his own house for luncheon. He makes the journey from his office to his home, some two or three miles, in a big red touring car which he drives himself. There is a speed limit strictly enforced in Washington City against everybody, excepting the President and the members of his Cabinet. These dignitaries are permitted to go at any pace they please. It thus becomes a point of propriety, in a sense a point of honor on the part of administrative officials to keep within bounds. Until Mr. McAdoo came to Washington no member of the Cabinet was ever known to abuse this privilege. But every day at noon time Mr. McAdoo rushes through the Washington streets at a forty-mile pace, with screaming siren, very much after the manner of the chief of the fire brigade responding to a hurry-up call. It is a trivial matter, to be sure. None the less it is a demonstration of personal vanity and of lack of consideration which is universally regarded at Washington as marking a serious fault in the personal character of the Secretary of the Treasury.

When Oakland selected for queen of its fete Miss Beatrice Garner, the beautiful factory girl, it at once proved its taste and the true quality of its democracy. Most cities appoint their queens of fete through "pull," but in this matter as in others this city ran true to form. Its high breeding and courtesy and love of truth, with an eye ever trained for beauty and modesty, saw instantly where the crown of honor belonged and proffered it worshipfully "on the knee of chivalry." It is things like these which make possible the dream of life. Beauty is the greatest force in the world. Be it a thought or a face it enters through all doors. All hail to the queen whose hands are none the less worthy in that she makes them earn for her an honest living.

It is interesting to hear that Raoul Laparra, the French composer, will take residence in the Berkeley hills to compose an opera which will be dedicated to California. It will be a story of the Old Mission days, with the music full of the color of those times. Great are the abilities of Monsieur Laparra, and never in his life has he better them. Nor was there ever a more inspiring environment for an opera than the beautiful mist-clad hills and scented dales of this region.

President Wilson is entirely right in declining to have part in a theatrical demonstration of the effectiveness of the long distance telephone. It is one thing for the President of the United States to address a group of citizens like the Traffic Club of St. Paul. It is quite another to do a telephone "stunt" between Washington and a point two thousand miles away.

Notable Persons

Deploy Attorney General Franklin Keedy, of New York, who has spent months in hard work on the case, is suffering from nervous breakdown as a result of his strenuous activities, his physicians referring to his condition as "Thaw's." President Woodrow Wilson, through Secretary of War Garrison, yesterday bestowed high praise on the Ninth United States Cavalry, now at Douglas, Arizona, for its gallantry in Mexico, the commendation being read before the assembled forces by the commander, Colonel John F. Guifoye.

Emperor William of Germany and Crown Prince Frederick William visited Brussels and Antwerp to inspect the submarine works, according to news reaching the zone of war today.

General Kitchener has issued a "Domestic War Order," or order that married officers must on no pretext permit their wives to visit them in camp. Some officers had done so, it was reported to the army leader.

President Wilson has refused to make any comment on the statement made by Representative Gardner of Massachusetts that he had ordered the joint Army and Navy Board not to meet again.

Paul Armstrong, noted playwright and producer, is seriously ill at the Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, heart trouble being the cause of his illness. His condition is declared serious.

Gertrude Atherton, California authoress, reported seriously ill in New York, is improving, according to reports given out by her physicians today, and her illness was pronounced not serious today. Pneumonia attacked her.

President Wilson last night wired a message of regret to Mrs. William R. Nelson, expressing his sympathy for the death of her husband, who had been owner of the Kansas City Star, and was noted as one of the nation's foremost journalists.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Henry Dopman, clerk to the Board of Supervisors, bought a fine straw hat for his boy as a birthday present. Mr. Dopman left the package in the copyist's room in the Hall of Records. The boys there played a joke on him by removing the new hat from the package and substituting an ancient straw hat. Last evening when Mr. Dopman took the train for his country home, he had his little package for his boy. It happened, however, that on the train he lost it. When he got home he told his boy of the misfortune and promised to produce another new hat. This morning Mr. Dopman related his tale of woe in the Recorder's office, and when he had finished his story he turned around and found a package on his desk. It was the hat he had bought for a birthday present. Dopman was mystified, but the boys told him what had happened and of the joke that saved the day.

The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Mrs. Harry Hinckley's diamonds two years ago has been entirely cleared up. The jewels were never stolen, but were lost while Mrs. Hinckley was on a shopping tour. Subsequently the gems were found by a boy in the employ of Mason & White, the Broadway candy dealers. The gems passed into the hands of W. C. Mason of the firm some months afterward. Later they were placed in the hands of his attorney, John Yule, who has passed them to the rightful owner.

The People's Party of Berkeley has entered the municipal fight and placed a ticket in the field. There were some spirited contests over a few of the nominations, which were as follows: Richard Lloyd, town marshal; Walter Young, town clerk; Frank Lowell, town assessor. A purity committee was named as follows: J. M. Doyle, J. G. Wright, T. Creaghill, M. DeLaughlin and J. J. Severance.

The Alameda County Bar Association will hold a meeting at the courthouse for the purpose of reorganizing.

HIS AD. WAS TRUTHFUL

A Boston physician tells of a Dr. Reed who, in his time, was one of the prominent medical men of the Hub. His large practice included many patients outside the city limits, and these he visited in his buggy.

One day Dr. Reed bought a new horse, with which he was much pleased until he discovered that the animal had an insurmountable objection to bridges of any kind, and could not be made to cross one.

Inasmuch as at that period it was necessary to cross certain bridges in order to reach any one of the surrounding towns, the doctor decided to sell the horse. He did not think it necessary to mention the animal's peculiarity, but was much too honest to misrepresent him, and, after some thought, produced the following advertisement, which he inserted in a local paper:

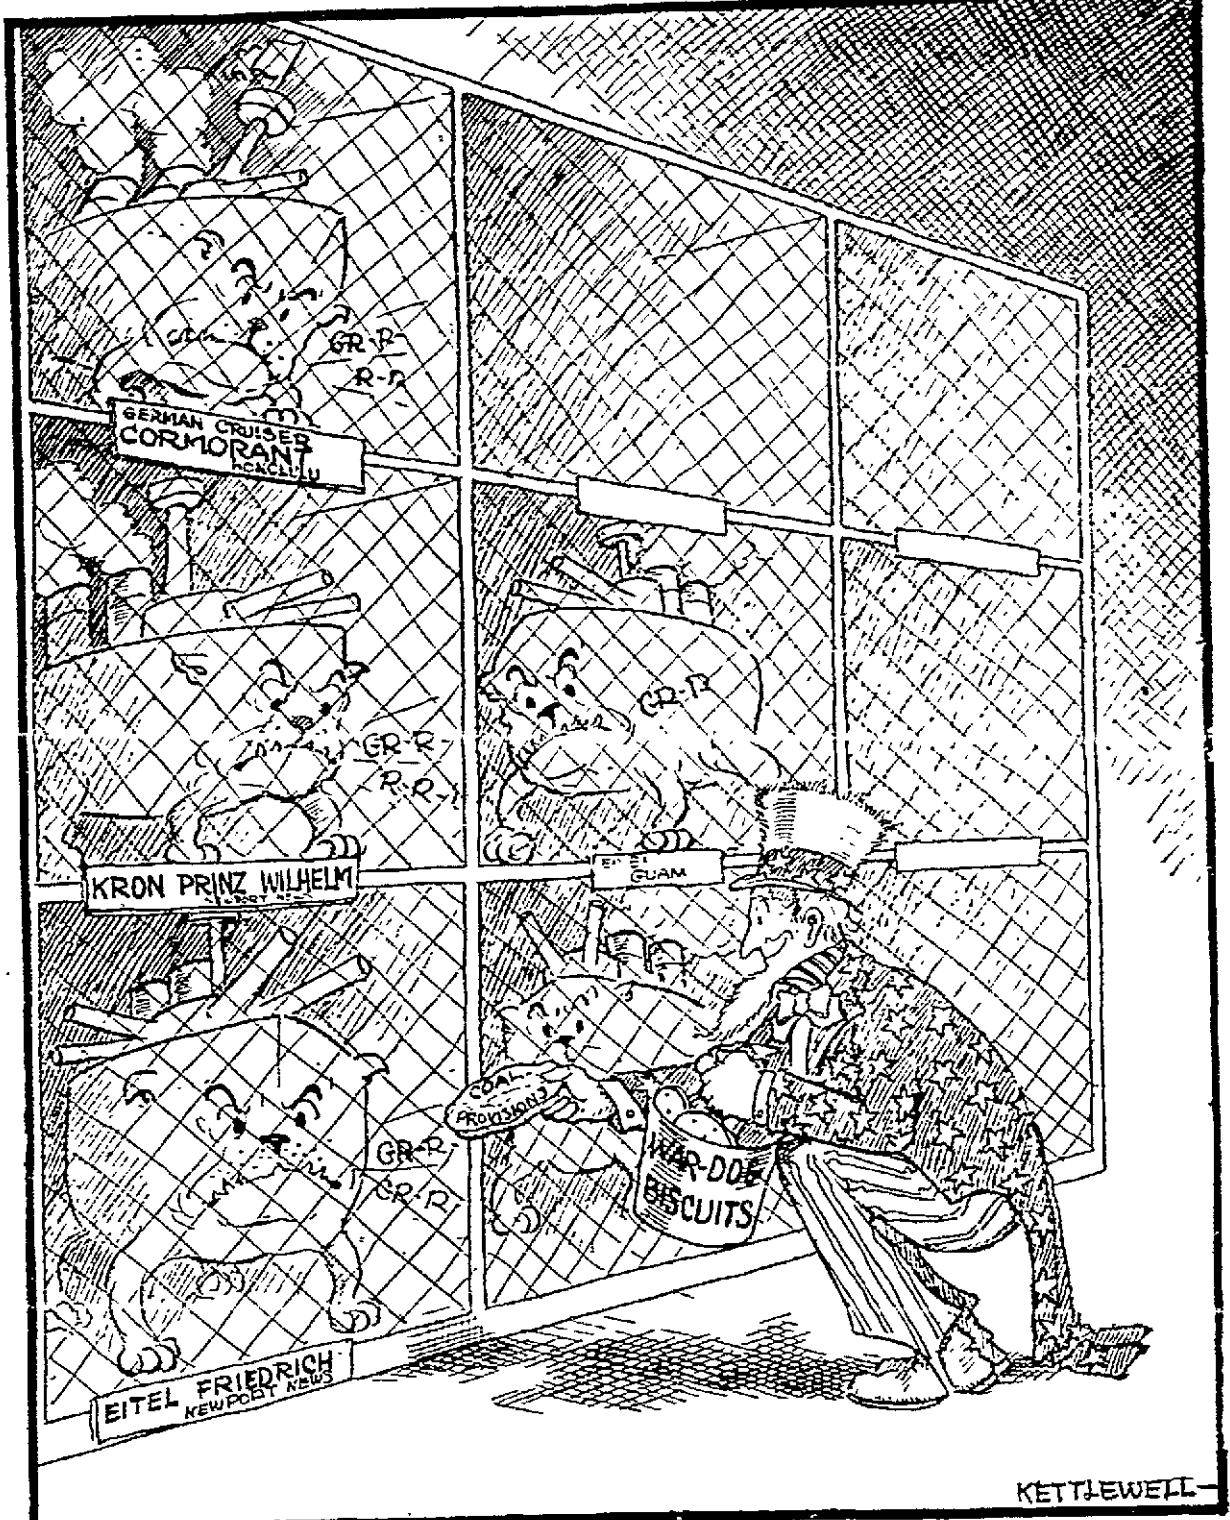

"For Sale—A bay horse, warranted sound and kind. The only reason for selling is because the owner is obliged to leave Boston."—New York Times.

WANTS MORE SPELLING BEES.

Why not have more old-fashioned spelling bees in this day of poorly trained spellers? asks the Montgomery, Ala., Advertiser. Recently an interesting bee was held in Selma, and now and then such affairs occur in other parts of the country. The Brooklyn Eagle gives a bee once a year, and is now preparing for the match of 1915.

A modern criticism of the modern young student is that he is not a proficient speller. There seems to be a defect in the modern system of teaching spelling, or a defect with the text-books used, or else our schools regard with painful indifference the value of correct spelling and correct punctuation.

UNCLE SAM—"POUNDMASTER"

VARIETIES

IF
If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you,
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too;
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or being hated, don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise;
If you can dream—and not make dreams your master;
If you can think—and not make thoughts your aim;
If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster
And treat those two impostors just the same;
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken,
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,
Or watch the things you gave your life to, broken,
And stoop to build 'em up with worn-out tools;
If you can make one heap of all your winnings
And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss,
And lose, and start again at your beginnings;
And never breathe a word about your losses;
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew
To serve your turn long after they are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing in you,
Even the Will which says to them:
"Hold on!"
If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with kings—nor lose the common touch;
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you,
If all men count with you, but none too much;
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run,
Yours is the earth and everything that's in it,
And—which is more—you'll be a man, my son!"
—Rudyard Kipling.

The Bulletin of the Pan-American Union reports that there is a growth of interest in the English language throughout the countries of Latin America.

New York in the Navy.
New York is the banner state for enlistments in the navy. An official statement from Secretary Daniels, prepared for the removal of President Wilson, shows that the number of boys from the Empire State in naval service as enlisted men is 792. As the total number of enlisted men is 32,697, more than one-seventh of the whole enlisted force comes from New York State.

Railways in Spain.
The total length of the railways in Spain is now 3277 miles, of which more than three-quarters is of standard gauge. The receipts of the railways decreased $2,000,000 in 1914 from receipts in 1913.

Refugees in England.
England is today directly and indirectly caring for over one hundred thousand Belgian refugees. Camps are maintained at Alexandra Palace, St. Anne's Home, Edmonton Refuge, St. Giles' Home, and Earl's Court. All expenses are defrayed by the British government.

A bureau of employment is attached to every camp, and representatives of organized labor are present to see that no injustice is done to the British laborer.

through injecting the foreign element into the trades and occupations. Owing to the vast number of British men who have joined the army, there is a scarcity of laborer in many fields of work, and the Belgians are sent out to supply this deficiency.

For Masons Abroad.
The Masonic War Relief Association of the United States has announced in Cincinnati that $12,000 has been sent to the grand lodges of Masons in eight European countries, for the relief of suffering or destitute Masons there.

Of this amount the grand lodges of Germany, England, Ireland and Belgium each received $2500, while $2000 has been divided between the grand lodges of France, Italy, Switzerland and Luxembourg.

The committee reported that the fund was rapidly approaching $50,000, contributed in its entirety by Freemasons of the United States. The Masons of Michigan head the list of contributors with $8000.

A warm controversy is on in the London press over the question whether ordained ministers should become fighting soldiers. Lord Selborne writes: "I think that the clergy would be acting very wrongly if they turned themselves into soldiers and neglected those spiritual functions which they alone can perform, and which were never more needed than at the present moment, both by ourselves at home and by our fleets and armies."

Our Farm Animals.
The Bureau of Crop Estimates of the Department of Agriculture estimates that on January 1, 1915, there were in the United States 195,577,000 farm animals, with an estimated value of $5,959,253,000. Of the various kinds of animals the 21,195,000 horses topped the list in total value—$2,190,102,000.

Sleeps on Wheels.
When General Joffre is traveling from point to point on the hundreds of miles of battle line under his direction he does most of his sleeping in his motor car, so the English newspapers state.

DEATH OF AN ARMY DOG.
The many friends of Texas, the little fox terrier who has been a camp follower for so many years, feel that his death deserves special mention. Last Friday evening he followed Lieutenant and Mrs. Boyers (who last owned him) and a number of officers and ladies to the club and apparently was his natural self, when suddenly he fell to the floor in a series of convulsions and died. He was about 13 years old, and first belonged to Lieut. McCleave at Fort Bliss, Tex. (thus the significance of his name), and from there Lieutenant McCleave took him to Fort Logan, Col. and then to Fort Douglas, Utah, and next to Fort Leavenworth, and here he changed owners, as Lieutenant McCleave was ordered to the Philippines. Lieutenant Boyers then became his master and brought him later to Plattsburg Barracks, N. Y., and when the regiment was ordered to Panama Lieutenant Boyers did not have the heart to leave him behind, especially in civil life, as he was so truly an army dog, and so Texas came along with the Fifth to Empire, where his last days were spent, and he left human friends behind, some of whom had known him since he was a puppy.—Letter from Empire (Canada Zone) to the Army and Navy Journal.

DOG SAVES SIX; DIES IN FIRE.
Lives of six persons were saved here today, says a Pittsburgh dispatch, through the sagacity of a French poodle that lost its life in its efforts to save the family. The dog belonged to Charles and Samuel Hill.

In the night, when it smelled burning wood, it first went to the bedroom of the two boys, jumped on the bed and pulled the clothes from the sleepers, awakening them, then ran to the bedroom of Samuel Wade and wife and barked until they awoke. The dog's body was found after the fire was extinguished.

A darkey running a ferry across the Alabama river was accosted by a poor white stranger who wanted to cross, but hadn't the wherewithal.

Pete scratched his woolly poll, perplexedly, then queried: "Doan' yo' got no money at all?"

"No," was the dejected reply.

"But it doan' cost yo' but three cents ter cross," insisted Pete.

"I know, but I hain't got three cents." After a final inward think, Pete remarked: "I done tell yo' what; a man what's not got three cents am jes as well off on his side ob de ribber as on de order."

One day, when he seemed to be more dense than usual, the teacher exclaimed: "It seems you are never able to answer any of my questions, Herman. Why?"

NEW COURSE AT COLUMBIA.

The George Crocker Cancer Research Laboratory of Columbia University recently erected on Morningside Heights will be thrown open to its year in students enrolling in the summer session, says the New York Times. Two years ago the College of Physicians and Surgeons opened its first courses to summer students, and the decision to admit them to work in the research laboratory is an important step. The laboratory is backed by the Crocker fund of $250,000 and an additional $50,000 given by the late George C. Crocker. The laboratory was erected out of the latter fund at a cost of $100,000.

From 1890 to 1914 a month was used for experimental purposes in the laboratory, and one of the problems facing Professor Francis Carter Wood, director of the research fund and of the laboratory, is that of obtaining such a large quantity of rodents. Professor James C. Ebert, director of the Summer Session Department, stated yesterday that the laboratory was to be kept in full swing during the summer, and the students enrolling in the medical course could arrange to carry on research work under the direction of the faculty in charge of the laboratory.

REGENTS DECLINE TO TREAT WITH ALUMNI

By Associated Press.
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 14.—
Efforts which had been in progress for several days to adjust the troubles at the State University met a check last night when the board of regents declined to meet with a committee of the alumni, declining to recognize or treat with the committee. The letter of the regents said that the committee would be to admit that the attitude of the regents had been wrong. The letter also reaffirmed the board's intention to support President Kingsbury and to engage men to replace the sixteen professors who have resigned. Another attempt to settle the trouble will be made at a meeting tonight of committees representing the regents and the members of the faculty who have not resigned.

What Women Are Doing in the News

"Peace Party" on Way to War Zone

NEW YORK, April 14.—"We'll stop the war even though it costs us our lives," said Miss Jane Addams yesterday, just before the departure of the steamship Noordam, which is carrying fifty members of the Women's Peace Party to The Hague.
Miss Addams, who is the leader of the party, said she did not know what plans have been made on the other side concerning the conference, but that American women can and must end the war in Europe.
"We do not even call this a peace conference," she declared. "We call it an international congress, that is the important thing. We are going to discuss the war situation from the woman's point of view, from the human stand-gallon water tank from its moorings, catching the girl in the deluge.

SEVENTEEN YEARS SPENT IN ALASKAN WILDS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—After living in Alaska continuously for over seventeen years, Dr. Leonard A. Sugden, English university man and explorer, has arrived in San Francisco and is at the Marx Hotel. During his sojourn in the Far North, many developments in science and industry have taken place in the outside world which Dr. Sugden never saw until his arrival in Seattle, six months ago.

Among these are the automobile, moving pictures and aeroplanes. Wireless telegraphy was introduced in Alaska during his stay there.
Through reading magazine articles, obtained at widely separated intervals, Dr. Sugden became acquainted with moving picture developments and bought a "movie" camera from a London trading company, which was sent by express, and with the aid of circular instructions he took 17,000 feet of films in all parts of Alaska.

He is now en route to Washington, D. C., to exhibit the pictures to President Wilson to show the resources of Alaska with a view to inducing possible haste in carrying out the plan of government railroads in Alaska.

leaving property valued at $15,000.
One of which one-fifth is situated in and near Seattle. Today's action is the beginning of an effort to collect the state inheritance tax. Walker

FIRMS MUST PAY FOR ACCIDENT AFTER HOURS

SACRAMENTO, April 14.—Employees who are injured on the premises of their employment while performing services for themselves either before, after or during business hours, may collect damages from their employer.

This was established in a decision handed down by the Industrial Accident Commission in the case of Miss Lucille A. Ruff, a Sacramento teacher, who fractured her right elbow by tripping over a telephone cord at the Tenth and P streets school. The state body allowed her $55 physician's fees.

Harris Weinstein filed a minority decision in which he points out that Miss Ruff has no right to damages because she was performing a service for herself after school hours.

The city commission may fight the decision.

THREE HOURS TO GET DIVORCE IN YUBA

MARISVILLE, April 14.—Robert Pineal, after he had learned definitely that she had returned to town after having run away with her affinity, Joseph Holland, at 10 a. m. he consulted his attorney, the latter filed suit in the Superior Court at 10 a. m., the attorney for the defendant filed an answer at 10:30 a. m. and Superior Judge E. S.
Mahon granted him an interlocutory decree at 11 a. m. Yuba county now claims the record for divorces in a hurry, three hours being the entire time consumed.

The Phenix were wedded in 1907, in Linda township, near here, both being well known. They lived apparently happily together until recently, the breach occurred when, it is alleged, Holland entered the household as a correspondent. A week ago both Mrs. Phenix and Holland disappeared from town, the former leaving her four-year-old daughter at home. Phenix sought the assistance of Chief of Police Chester Smith of this city and Sheriff C. J. McCoy of Yuba county, in his attempt to locate the pair.

For a Sweet Kitchen Use CRISCO For Frying—For Shortening For Cake Making

When you fry with Crisco you have a kitchen free of smoke. And there is no odor from the fat.

Crisco does not smoke at frying temperature; you need not wait until it becomes "smoking hot." In deep frying, test for proper temperature with bread crumb or bit of dough before placing the food into the hot Crisco.

There will be no more burned specks in the food. Foods fried in Crisco are more wholesome; the crust forms immediately and then the inside bakes instead of soaks.

Crisco is all vegetable. It is a rich fat that readily digests.
It is used not only for frying and shortening in place of lard, but for rich cakes in place of butter. Less is used in each recipe, because Crisco is so much richer. It stays fresh and pure in ordinary room temperature.

WHAT SHALL WE GIVE TO BRIDES OF APRIL?

While everyone is wondering what to give the April brides, it may be appropos to remember the quaint wedding gift of George Meredith to a friend.

To begin with they send silver and crystal in England, but here, with books and flowers, and homey things like the English novelists was unusual. He had evidently wondered, as other people do, "what to send," when his friend, Miss Janet Duff-Gordon, was married. Because he wrote to her, he had at last decided she might be pleased with portraits of parents. Not paintings, but photographs taken at a certain London studio, where he would make an appointment for them to sit. And Lady Duff Gordon and her husband were for photographs of the wedding gift from Mr. Meredith to their daughter, and didn't think it odd.

The charming English bride of the 1870's appreciated the gift and treasured the pictures. But a twentieth century American girl might politely consider it queer. At rather foolish present among silver bowls and jars of cologne, and all the costly, impersonal things that twentieth century brides collect.

It isn't offered as a suggestion to wondering friends of the season's brides. But merely as an interesting contrast to the things they will finally select.

Beauty's Companion

By LILLIAN RUSSELL (Copyright, 1915, E. Lillian Russell)

HAVE the comfort of your body in mind when you select your wearing apparel.

There is nothing more uncomfortable than a shoe that does not fit the foot. It is annoying, it is too large or too small. It will bother you just as much while rubbing blisters as it will when it pinches your toes. A beautiful shoe will fail to add to your appearance if it makes you limp. If it places lines of suffering in your face its beauty will be more than offset by your distorted facial expression.

In selecting your shoes pay as much attention to size and fit as to style otherwise they may force you to appear in the role of a cripple. It is needless to point to the fact that it is difficult to be graceful in a shoe that is rubbing or pinching the foot. Practically every person has been so unfortunate as to learn this through experience. Such a shoe will detract from your grace, no matter how Spartanlike you may bear the suffering.

The tight shoe is bound to affect your whole appearance. It may be kept out of sight, but the suffering it causes will be reflected in your face and bearing. You cannot walk, sit or stand properly for any length of time when the shoe is pinching. The tight shoe is indeed a most effective weapon against beauty.

The pinched foot is irritated from the time it is increased in a tight shoe until it is removed, and all that time the wearer of such a shoe is inflicting in a way that affects her general appearance.

It is impossible to be gracious and charming when a shoe is hurting your foot. The shoe will make an impression on each of your words and smiles. It is the enemy of a sweet disposition. As to listening when others are talking to you, that is an impossibility, because the mind is too busy suffering to permit any other idea to have sway there.

Pride comes before a fall when you select a shoe that is too small for the purpose of minimizing the size of the foot. If you will not get much comfort out of a shoe that is too large.

Comfort is a basic requisite to beauty. It is not to be found in a shoe that does not fit the foot.

Answers to Queries

MARY: I agree that a mole is disfiguring, but do not tamper with it yourself. The best and most effective way to have it removed is by the electric needle.

ADELE: Don't be impatient. You can't expect your lashes and brows to grow in a day. It takes time. Melt some yellow vaseline and place it on the roots of the lashes with a tiny camel's hair brush. Do this every night for a couple of weeks, being careful not to get any in the eyes. It may take even longer than that to see any change. But persevere. The world was not made in a day, you know.

HARRIET D.: Many persons are afflicted with a red nose in cold weather. It may be caused from internal trouble or from external. Avoid tight clothing and spicy and rich foods. Bathe the nose every day in witch hazel or alcohol. I think it would be well for you to consult a physician regarding the pimples which form under the skin of the nose. I shall be happy to send you formula for French tonic for eyebrows if you will send me a stamped addressed envelope.

League of Children Will Produce Plays

Oakland children will be asked this week to join a new league, national in scope, which is to give plays in the various cities of the United States to aid the children of Europe. It is hoped the new league will exist after the war, and it is proposed to make it an effective means of promoting world peace in the future. William Chanler is to be the head of the bureau of the new organization, and Baroness Ksialina de Neville, 11 years old, is to preside over the girls' division. The plays will be produced by stage children, and children are to be invited to become members of the league and to co-operate in the theatrical and other work. The organizers of the plan believe that an organization can be effected in every large city of the nation, and that the influence of the juveniles will do much to prevent further hostilities. While the formal matter of organization has not been submitted to Oaklanders, the requests are expected to arrive from the east the latter part of the week. Dispatches to The Tribune of New York City describe the formation of the league, with headquarters there, and report that the officers are making enthusiastic efforts to form branches in all the large cities of the union.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC CLUB HONORS JEFFERSON

NEW YORK, April 14.—Lindley M. Garrison, Secretary of War, made a strong plea for local autonomy in government in an address on democracy at the annual Jefferson birthday dinner at the National Democratic Club here last night, while Senator James Hamilton

Lewis of Illinois eulogized President Wilson and said he did not believe the President would consent to become a candidate for re-election if his policies had been executed into laws. Democrats were present from all parts of the country. Some of the most well-known were Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to the President, Senator Ole M. Jensen of Kentucky, Senator Charles F. Johnson of Maine, Representative J. Thomas Herin of Alabama, Morgan J. O'Brien, Charles F. Murphy and John M. Black. Secretary Garrison maintained that the State should attend to its duty and that it should not usurp city powers. He said national problems should occupy the attention of the Federal Government. Each in its sphere should be strong, self-sufficient and proud and able to bear its own burdens and solve its own problems, he declared.

EIGHT MEN CONFESS FORGERIES

PETITION FOR ELECTION FALSE?

Indictments May Result From Attempts on Blue Sky Law

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—Once again the forgery of signatures to petitions drawn up under the terms of the initiative provisions of the law have been uncovered, and at an early hour this morning eight men confessed to the grand jury that they were guilty of writing in false signatures.

This is by far the most noteworthy of wholesale forgeries that have thus far been made public. The Blue Sky petition was the document upon which the forged names were written, and it was nearly 3 a. m. before the grand jury adjourned their session after hearing the confessions of the guilty persons. Those said to have admitted that they had forged the names of registered voters were: Harry Barron, James T. Cross, J. H. Canford, Thomas H. Benner, George F. Byron, George Sullivan, W. F. McAllister, P. L. Dollare.

INDICTMENTS DEFERRED.
The grand jurors decided not to take any action looking to the indictment of the accused men until their meeting on next Tuesday. The grand jurors, after taking up formal matters until a late hour, began their investigation about midnight into the alleged forgeries and endeavored to establish the identity of the persons who employed the solicitors to the various petitions.

A large number of witnesses have been summoned and as each of those who made confessions were called into the grand jury room separately, it took a long time to obtain the necessary evidence. Finally the jurors decided to vote indictments against the accused. When they looked at their watches, however, and discovered that it was on the stroke of three an adjournment was decided upon.

ONE WITNESS WAITS.
Edward Owen, who confessed two weeks ago that he forged the name of more than 100 voters to the Springs Valley petition, was not called, although he was present in the anteroom.

Owen declared two weeks ago that he could not remember the name of the man who had employed him. It is said that this individual occupied an office in the Philan building. On Tuesday night the grand jury will try to establish the identity of the mysterious person.

Assistant District Attorney Louis Ferrar, conducted the examination before the grand jury.

Ferrar stated this morning that all of the grand jurors and himself had been sworn to secrecy regarding the proceedings and nothing whatever could be given to other experts in the returned. It is probable that the details will be made public in full following Tuesday's session.

It can be done!
It has been done!
Oakland clubwomen have again made at least a dent in the hall of fame.

It all happened yesterday at "Shakespeare Day" at the Ebell Club, when prominent women of Oakland, garbed in the costume of the characters of the Bard of Avon, trod the Ebell Club stage in tableau and revue.
Mrs. J. R. Scupham, curator of the Shakespearean section, was in charge of the program and the costumes—and all was strictly up to date, from the standpoint of Shakespeare's time, except the very modern shoes which postdated it as far as the difference between then and now.

AMONG THE PLAYERS.
Miss Lucia Smith, in a charming Juliet costume, was one of the hits of the afternoon. Mrs. Daniel Easterbrook was impressive as a court lady of Elizabethan times, and Miss Alma Farley appeared as Lady Macbeth.

WILL PRESIDE AT TRIAL OF SEBASTIAN

Judge Wood to Hear Evidence Against Suspended Chief of Police.

By Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, April 14.—Judge Fred V. Wood of Amador county, according to announcement today, will preside at the trials of all the indictments arising out of the grand jury investigation of misconduct charges lodged against Charles E. Sebastian, suspended chief of police and candidate for mayor.

There are six indictments, three against Sebastian, one against his attorney, Earl Rogers, for an alleged attempt to intimidate the grand jury, one against Mrs. Lillie Pratt, guardian of one of the girls against whom the police chief is alleged to have offended, and one against Victoria Despartie, the juvenile court ward, whose allegations initiated the investigation. The charge against the latter is perjury, the result of her repudiation of the accusation she made against the police official.

Sebastian was to have appeared in court today to plead to the charge relating to Miss Despartie, but it was announced that his counsel intended, instead, to interpose demurrers to the indictment next Monday, while the court is busy impaneling a jury to try him and Mrs. Pratt on the charge of having jointly contributed to the delinquency of Edith Serkin, Mrs. Pratt's half sister and ward.

The perjury case involving Miss Despartie is to go before Judge Wood next Wednesday also on demurrer. Miss Despartie's case is in the hands of the public defender.

BILLY SUNDAY URGED TO WAGE PROHIBITION FIGHT AMONG ENGLISH WORKERS
By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 14.—"Billy" Sunday is to be asked to go to England to wage a prohibition campaign among the workingmen of that country, according to the Tribune. A request for Sunday's address, it says, has been made of its London correspondent by Sir Henry Edward Randall, director of the business men's campaign for prohibition in England, so that a cable message might be forwarded to Sunday asking him to engage in a revival tour of England for the purpose of battling against liquor.

Sir Henry is quoted as saying he hoped Sunday could make arrangements to close his present campaign at a reasonably early date so that he might come to England.

JUDGE BUCKLES' NOTE CAUSES SUIT BY BANK
VALLEJO, April 14.—The Solano County Bank of Suisun today commenced an action in the Superior Court at Fairfield to set aside, on the ground of fraud, the deeds made by the late Superior Judge A. J. Buckles on his deathbed, giving his real property to his wife and two daughters. The action is based on two promissory notes aggregating $12,000. It is charged that when Buckles ran for office against Attorney Philip B. Lynch last fall he needed money and his promissory note for $1000 was accepted by the bank, endorsed by Frank R. Devlin, now railroad commissioner, but then a practicing attorney in Judge Buckles' court; Joseph R. Raines, then district attorney but now a law partner of Devlin's and carrying on his practice; George Bonney, court reporter, and A. L. Freed, president of the bank.

Later, when Judge Buckles decided to undergo an operation, he executed a second note for $500.

SCORES NEAR DEATH IN VESSEL

Ship Races to Pier, Winning Safety Only by Minutes.

Following a race against death, in which a river steamer barely reached the Selby pier, in San Pablo bay, before rising waters from a leak extinguished its fires, sixty-five passengers of the steamer, Monarch, which met with mishap last night, today returned to Sacramento, where they had started on a pleasure tour, and a crew of shipwrights and caulkers began work on the vessel in an attempt to put it back into commission again.

The vessel reached the Selby wharf last night just as the fires in the boiler-room were put out by the water which flooded the hold of the vessel, and the dunned life-preservers and who had plunged into the bay, were hurried ashore while the vessel began to list. The ship was safely tied to the Selby wharf before serious damage was done, however.

NO REAL DANGER.
"There was no serious danger as it was," said Captain H. McNell of the vessel this morning, "but if the water had reached the boilers before we got ashore it would have meant grave peril. The ship listed badly when we tied her up and the water had put the fires out. I don't know how the leak was sprung."

The boat had started at 9 o'clock yesterday morning from Sacramento with a party of sixty-five pleasure-seekers. The vessel, owned by the Sacramento-Stockton Transportation and Navigation Company, has been a pleasure boat for years and was crowded.

The vessel had passed through Carquinez straits when the leak was discovered and the pumps set to work. For a time it was thought that the pumps would be able to cope with the situation, and when this was found impossible the race for the shore began.

HARD RACE BEGINS.
Chief Engineer Mulholland proceeded to plug his fires high and began the run under a heavy head of steam. Alarmed by the speed of the boat, the passengers became panic-stricken. Walking among them, the captain restored order, giving careful directions in the use of the life-preservers in case of an emergency and advising the passengers of the situation.

In the meantime the pilot had sighted the Selby wharf and further speed was put on to reach it. Just as the deckhands made fast to the wharf the mounting water in the hold reached the boiler fires. The ship listed heavily, straining at the ropes that held it to the pier as the passengers fled ashore.

The passengers were hurried to the Selby Hotel, where they were cared for until this morning, when they were returned to their homes. No one was injured. There were a number of women and children in the crowd.

An investigation as to the cause of the leak will be made by Captain McNell as soon as the work of pumping out and repairing the vessel is accomplished.

THREW CUP AT WIFE.
When Thomas D. Johnston, 2326 Tenth street, Berkeley, sought to impress upon his wife that he was the "boss," he threw a cup at her once because she exchanged two cans of corn for a dozen bananas, according to the complaint for divorce filed against the husband today by Ada M. Johnston. The couple were married in 1906.

INJUNCTION DIRECTED AGAINST FALLING IN LOVE IS REFUSED BY JURIST

PORTLAND, Ore., April 14.—An injunction restraining a woman from falling in love with the husband of the complainant was denied in the Circuit Court here today. Attorney Henry Westbrook pleaded for a client who alleges a "female adventuress" in stealing her husband.

"If I gave a restraining order in this case the women would be in here four deep asking help," said Judge Henry McGinn in denying the injunction.

TRAFFIC AGENTS OF NATION HERE

Important Visit Paid by Employees of Principal Railroads.

Traffic managers and officials from a number of the important railroads of the United States will be visitors in Oakland this week, during the convention of the American Association of Passenger Traffic Officers, which opens tomorrow at the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

The traffic officials made the trip with their families on a specially equipped train over the Chicago and Northwestern Railway from Chicago, the train being a duplicate of the Overland Limited, and the route being via the Chicago and Northwestern Railway, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific.

Visiting friends and sightseeing will consume about four days in Los Angeles and vicinity, including a trip to the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Diego.

The return trip from Los Angeles will be made over the Santa Fe, a stop of one day being made at the Grand Canyon on route, arriving in Chicago Thursday, April 23.

The visit of these Passenger Traffic officers to the Pacific coast is of practical value to that locality, some of the most important lines in the United States being represented.

The Chicago and Northwestern Railway has printed a special souvenir itinerary for the occasion.

ELEVEN ARRESTED FOR BREAKING TRAFFIC LAW

Corporal John Fahy, detailed as chief of the police traffic bureau, today speeded up his men, with the result that 11 arrests were made for violations of various traffic regulations.

Two arrests were made of jitney bus drivers for violating the recently amended ordinance. The new ordinance is numbered 510 and is more lenient in some ways than the old, it provides, however, that jitneys must come to a full stop at railroad crossings and it was for violating this section that Charles Peyret and Peter Vesovich were arrested at Twentieth and San Pablo avenue.

Sam A. Combes was arrested for not stopping behind a street car. The following arrests were made for violations of the state motor vehicle act: Louis Fraser, Ernest H. Ledo, Louis Le Fever, Ernest F. Muller, Charles Telle, Edgar Sanborn, Alfred Nelson and Fred Ferwell.

CARRANZA HAS NO SALUTE FOR FLAG

Gunboat Guerrero Passes Admiral Howard's Craft, Ignoring Naval Custom.

By Associated Press.
SAN BOARD C. S. S. COLORADO, April 13, via wireless to San Diego, April 14.—The Carranza gunboat, General Guerrero, failed to salute the flag of Admiral Thomas B. Howard, flying from the flagship Colorado on the Pacific fleet, when the General Guerrero arrived today conveying the steamers Korrigan III and Santa Rosalia. No action was taken concerning this breach of naval custom. No disturbances are reported along the Mexican coast.

FUNSTON AGAIN NEEDED.
By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 14.—Major-General Frederick Funston, commanding the American forces on the Mexican border, is en route today from San Antonio to Brownsville, Tex., to take personal charge of the situation there, which has again become threatening in consequence of the falling of Mexican bullets into American territory.

Reporting to the war department, General Funston said that although bullets struck the Brownsville side during the fighting yesterday, there was no casualties. Colonel Blockmore at Brownsville, in a report forwarded by General Funston, said the hostilities yesterday extended from a point about one-half mile in front of the right flank of Carranza's trenches, around Matamoros, to about a mile from the Brownsville pumping station. It was in own vicinity of the pumping station that the bullets fell on the American side. The Villa forces had two field pieces in action during the engagement and fired about 20 shots into Matamoros.

According to reports from Matamoros to the Carranza agency here today, the sortie against the Villa troops yesterday resulted in the killing of 300 of the besiegers and the capture of many prisoners, with 200 horses, 50 mules, 4 machine guns, a large number of rifles and a quantity of ammunition.

TAKEN BY SURPRISE.
By Associated Press.
BROWNVILLE, Tex., April 14.—The shelling of Matamoros by Villa artillery was not renewed last night or early today. There was considerable doubt about the "Villa" forces' next movement, owing to the wounding yesterday of General Santa Navarro, second in command. It was believed the Villa forces might await reinforcements, said to be approaching from Monterey and Nuevo Laredo.

Villa officers admit yesterday's sortie took some of their outposts by surprise at breakfast. Carrying machine guns on their backs, Indian troops from the garrison crept on their hands and knees through the brush, no firing until within a few feet of the Villa outposts.

JAILED WITHOUT HEARING.
ROSEBURG, Ore., April 14.—A letter just received by Mrs. G. S. Lahey of this city, which was smuggled out of a Mexican prison, tells of the incarceration without hearing of her husband. Lahey was seized last December, when he went to Mexico on business. He has been denied access to the American consul and has been denied any kind of a hearing. He is ignorant of the charges against him.

Today attorneys of Roseburg sent an appeal to Secretary of State Bryan to act.

BILLY MCCARNEY MOURNS AS TOM JONES CHUCKLES Funny How Luck Dodges One Man and Accompanies Another

The trail of the pugilist crown has its many ups and downs—it is rapid and unexpected success for some and for others it is a path of reverses; never a break in the luck of a champion to join in the spotlight that is picked up inside the squared arena. Jess Willard is the man of the hour; he will not fight for a year and his campaign is so arranged that he will profit by being the best of the world in months of theatrical work, and most important of all, the financial revenue, Jess is the champion, but there is another part to this part who shares in that success, victory over Jack Johnson. The lucky one is Tom Jones.

SUCCESS IGNORES BILLY MCCARNEY.
The fighter does the fighting; he gives through the tedious training work; he knocks out or is knocked out; there is fame while he is on top, but all of it is shared with the manager. And the manager of champions produces our example for the ups and downs; the reverses and successes. One is Tom Jones, the lucky one; the other is Billy McCarney, the unlucky one.

One of the managers of a fight manager is sufficient to fit him with a fortune. Jones has not managed one; he has been on the losing end of it. And originally Tom is not a good fighter of the ring game. In 1905 he was proprietor of a saloon in St. Louis, Ill. There he found a fight manager, and he hit into the "Illinois Thunderbolt," later a champion, and thought of the fight manager as a manager of champions.

HAS WINNERS UNTIL POST TIME.
How different, though, with one who has been a promoter, manager and matchmaker for years and years—Billy McCarney. Charles Haughton, as promoter of the big game in St. Louis, a decade back, was the "hard-luck" fighter. With Haughton, he couldn't right himself; he put on big matches and brought champions to town, but fortune never smiled with Charles "Hard-luck" Haughton's record could hold a string alongside of Billy McCarney. McCarney's pugilistic record is penned along these lines:

A promoter in New York.
A promoter in Philadelphia.
A promoter of the Jeffries-Johnson battle.

A party of the fortune for the Jeff-Johnson pictures.
Manager of Luther McCarty.
Manager of Carl Morris.

At first glance and one would imagine the pack just bulging out of every pocket for McCarney. He has been in the ring, he has packed houses in Philadelphia; a member of the Jeffries-Johnson fight, getting a split decision, and a string alongside of Billy McCarney. McCarney's pugilistic record is penned along these lines:

McCarney entered New York a few months before the game was closed.
McCarney entered Philadelphia a few months before the game developed.
McCarney was the one who secured the Jeffries-Johnson fight for San Francisco, and when it was moved to Reno, Nevada.

McCarney did not catch a cent on the pictures. They were not worth a cent with the Jeffries-Johnson fight.
McCarney managed McCarty when Lute was killed, and at that time the cowboy was a year shy of knocking out Johnson.

McCarney managed Morris, but Willard was picked ahead of Carl for the recent title encounter with the darky.

In New York and Philadelphia McCarney was broken by the Jeffries-Johnson fight. He drifted out to the Pacific coast and was one of the leaders in convincing the 1510 that Billy McCarney was the one who had the right to the picture. He was on the picture when the picture was taken. He was on the picture when the picture was taken. He was on the picture when the picture was taken.

McCarney liked that guy Willard. Jess hasn't a chance. I'm going down, here to Oklahoma. He's big, just the kind to lick Johnson, and I believe it will be a lucky turn for me.

McCarney left St. Louis and picked up Morris, instead of Willard. At that time Willard was moving around the country without a first-class manager. No one paid any attention to his claims as a legitimate white hope. He was managed by Charles Cutler, a wrestler, at one time, but the fight promoter refused to accept Willard as a candidate for the heavyweight crown. McCarney didn't want him, and he held a smart judge of glove talent. Inasmuch as he discovered and developed McCarty from a cowboy to the champ of the white hopes.

McCARNEY'S DEATH A KAYO BLOW.
Then came Lute McCarty, whose advance was more brilliant than Jess Willard—of course, before Jess met Jack McCarney and McCarty was accounted a fortune, or one was before them, until the battle with Arthur Pelkey. When Lute McCarty was broken, he pictured Lute as the champion, automobiles, theatrical engagements and record purses. They would have arrived but for the death of the big boy.

Again McCarney's luck veered. About a year ago McCarney visited St. Louis. He was on the picture. He was on the picture. He was on the picture. He was on the picture. He was on the picture.

NORTHWEST MAT CHAMPIONS WIN WESTERN TITLES

Five men from the northwest were victors in the final four western wrestling matches held at the Civic Auditorium last night. Frank Glane captured the 150-pound class; Edgar Frank, the 155-pound class; Oliver Runcher, the 160-pound class; David Burns, the 165-pound class; and George F. McCarthy, the 170-pound class.

RABBIT'S FOOT TRAILER JONES.
Then had Tom Jones arriving again from La Salle. Pappe was a big money maker for Jones. Wolcott brought in another fortune for Jones, and with Ad out of the championship race Jones was a first class manager. It was a first class manager that happened along; conferred with Jack Curley, and between them they decided Willard would conquer.

From Pappe to Wolcott to Willard is a combination that has made Tom Jones a fortune. Jones, who has been drifting some place along this L. S. A. A. white hope is not needed; Willard won, and it is doubtful if Jess' first battle against any husky will approach the $20,000 gate at the Jeffries-Johnson match.

Rudy Baerwald, the Seal outfielder who made a fine showing with the Seals, has been picked up by the Seals. Rudy is a first class manager. He is a first class manager. He is a first class manager.

BASEBALL
The Southern Pacific Baseball League entered in its season Sunday morning at Fruitvale baseball park, when the Western Division and Store Department teams crossed blades before a large crowd of railroad men and their friends.

The Western Division, taking the long end of a 4 to 2 score, pitcher Stanley Ray of the division scored a shutout, but for the Southern Pacific, the game was a close one. The game was a close one. The game was a close one.

McCarney entered New York a few months before the game was closed. McCarney entered Philadelphia a few months before the game developed. McCarney was the one who secured the Jeffries-Johnson fight for San Francisco.

KRON PRINZ MAY BE WEEKS IN PORT

Need of New Boiler Tubes Likely to Keep Craft in Dock.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., April 14.—The German commerce raider Kronprinz Wilhelm, it was learned today, is in need of boiler tubes, which cannot be supplied at this port and must be ordered from Germany. To procure and install the tubes, it is said would require at least three weeks.

Expecting permission from Washington to move into drydock, Captain Tiedemann of the Wilhelm ordered his vessel made fast to the pier and moved up the Thames river from her anchorage.

The German commander promised Collector Hamilton today to ascertain whether any naturalized Americans are aboard the ship. At the same time, Americans believed to belong to the crew, details of the sinking of the British steamship Bellevue, one of the Wilhelm's four victims are related today by members of the crew.

The raider is bound from Liverpool to South American ports with coal and whiskey when captured by the Wilhelm December last. She was moored to the Wilhelm with strong cables and "lapped" everything of value and was then lashed to the side of the raider. In order that nothing might be left floating on the surface to give the whereabouts when the Bellevue was sunk.
